

Meet Keerthikan

Hi everyone! I'm Keerthikan, born and raised in Sønderborg. Later I moved to Odense, where I studied and completed my Masters in Advanced Robotics.

My Journey

After finishing my studies, I was searching for the right place to work. At a Christmas party, I somehow got pulled into the *dark side* of web development and backend development — and I haven't been able to escape it since! (Confession: I've never actually seen Star Wars, so I'm not entirely sure if I used that reference correctly... but it felt right!)

What I Do Now

These days, I spend my time building backend systems, exploring new technologies, and enjoying the unexpected path my career has taken. It's funny how life can steer you in directions you never planned, but end up loving.

Outside of Work

When I'm not coding, I take on the role of father to my two amazing kids. I'm also the guy who always has something to fix around the house — there's always a project waiting for me (just ask my wife!).

Balancing family life with work keeps me grounded and reminds me that problem-solving isn't only for code — it's for leaky faucets, squeaky doors, and Lego towers too.

Fun Fact

During my student days, I once signed up for a casino site just to get a free pizza. I had just read about a roulette trick and thought, *"hey, why not give it a try?"*

It actually worked surprisingly well... so well that I started worrying about where it might lead. To play it safe, I declared myself a gambling addict (*in Danish we say "ludoman"*) and got excluded from all casino sites.

Pretty neat way to cancel multiple subscriptions in one click — and yes, I still got the pizza!

Looking Forward

I hope this little introduction gave you a chance to get to know me a bit better than before. I'm really looking forward to meeting you all and learning more about you too.

As the saying goes: "Strangers are just friends waiting to happen."

Møjn!
